Write a Literary Analysis

Step 1: Write your topic sentence

- Title
- Author
- Inference/analysis you will be making

In the story "_____" by _____ many inferences about ____ can be made.

Step 2: State your first textual evidence.

- A direct quote OR a paraphrase
- This is not your idea or opinion.

Step 3: Explain your analysis.

- This is your inference based on the evidence.

This suggests...
This implies...
This could mean...
This shows...

Step 4: Tell why this analysis supports your main idea.

- This is your background knowledge.

This suggests... because ....
This implies... which is why ...

Repeat steps 2-4.

Use transition words between ideas.

Optional: End with a concluding statement.

Textual evidence + background knowledge = inference

TIP!
This is not summarizing.
Your thoughts and ideas are key to an analysis.
You must connect the evidence to your ideas.

Analytical Essay

Overview
Purpose	To analyze a set topic and persuade the reader of the topic of the writer's point of view, through a thoroughly developed argument. To present a point of view and be able to support it with evidence.
Mediums	Test responses, academic publications, exam responses
Features	Comparisons, arguments, related to the topic
Language	Formal. Usually neutral and objective, although emotive and persuasive language can be effective if the topic calls for it. Past tense is appropriate to retail past events. Present tense is more common when analysing non-historical texts. Cause and effect (is attributed to, caused, because of, for this reason...)
